The 2019 Game Developers Conference is just weeks away, and today organizers are excited to give you a sneak peek at the games you can play during the show in the GDC 2019 Day of the Devs showcase!

Ever year this showcase serves up a cornucopia of games from some of the industry's most interesting and talented creators, and everyone attending GDC (which runs from March 18th through the 22nd this year) is encouraged to drop by, play some games and perhaps chat with their creators!

It's a great opportunity to catch your breath and check out some cool games amid the hustle and bustle of the conference.

Plus, it's often a great place to see newly-playable versions of some of the most exciting indie games around (like Spelunky 2 and Samurai Gunn 2) -- as well as some unannounced projects!

Without further ado, here's a list of some of the games and devs that will take part in Day of the Devs at GDC 2019:

- An unannounced title - Double Fine Productions*
  - Playable only Wednesday-Friday
- Afterparty from Night School Studio
- Atomicrops from Bird Bath Games*
- Carto from Sunhead Games
- Consume Me from Jenny Jiao Hsia and AP Thomson
- Inmost from Hidden Layer Games*

- Totally Accurate Battle Simulator from Landfall Games*
- Void Bastards from Blue Manchu*
  - Playable only Wednesday-Friday
- Wooden Nickel from Brain&Brain*

All games marked with a * will be playable for the first time at this showcase, so set aside some time to swing by and check them out during GDC 2019, which takes place March 18th through the 22nd at the (newly renovated!) Moscone Center in San Francisco.
